Re: U.S. v. Kaloveros, et al.
Case No. 1:16-cr-00776

Dear Judge Caproni:

It has come to our attention that Mr. Percoco has requested an adjournment of his sentencing scheduled for June 6, 2018. On behalf of Mr. Aiello, we join in his application but we would respectfully ask that the sentencing be deferred until after our trial has concluded. As you know, our trial is scheduled to commence on June 11, 2018. Inevitably, the name Percoco will arise during this trial. Due to the massive amount of publicity that has been generated as a result of his conviction, the sentence will have an obviously detrimental impact upon Mr. Aiello if Mr. Percoco is sentenced during the course of our June trial. While we understand that the jury would be told that they cannot read newspapers or watch television, specifically with regard to the present case, that restriction would not apply to the Percoco sentencing.

Moreover, if Mr. Percoco were sentenced during the course of the trial, it would be impossible not to draw a prejudicial link between his sentence/conviction and our ongoing trial. Thus, the unfair prejudice to Mr. Aiello would be profound and unbreakable. It appears that the proof in the June trial will last approximately five to six weeks, which would take the case into the middle of July and, of course, no one can possibly predict how long the jury may deliberate. In the last case it took nearly two weeks, thus magnifying potential prejudice even more if the Percoco sentencing were to take place while the jury was in fact deliberating. Accordingly, we respectfully ask that the Percoco sentencing be deferred until a date in August after our trial has concluded. Thank you for your consideration.
